

Francine Tournour, Director
Office of Public Safety Accountability
City of Sacramento

Francine Tournour, Director of the Office of Public Safety Accountability (OPSA), joined the City of Sacramento in 2006 as Deputy Director, and was appointed Director in January 2008.

Francine holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice from Madonna University in Michigan and a Master's in Emergency Management from CSU Long Beach.

The Office of Public Safety Accountability assists the public during the complaint process against public safety employees. It also adds additional transparency and accountability to the Police and Fire Departments regarding the complaint process, policies, procedures and practices. The office accepts, audits, and provides an independent review of complaints involving public safety employees.

Francine currently staffs and was instrumental in the creation of the newly developed Sacramento Community Police Commission, which is tasked with making policy recommendations to the City Council regarding the Sacramento Police Department, to ensure they are bias free.
