

Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention Act - Youthful Offender Block Grant
2018 Expenditure and Data Report
Due Date: October 1, 2018

On or before October 1, 2018, each county is required to submit to the Board of State & Community Corrections (BSCC) a report on its Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention Act (JJCPA) and Youthful Offender Block Grant (YOBG) programs during the preceding year. For JJCPA this requirement can be found at Government Code (GC) Section 30061(b)(4)(C) and for YOBG it can be found at Welfare & Institutions Code Section (WIC) 1961(c). These code sections both call for a consolidated report format that includes a description of the programs and other activities supported by JJCPA and/or YOBG funds, an accounting of all JJCPA and YOBG expenditures during the prior fiscal year, and countywide juvenile justice trend data.

Prior to submitting this report save the file using the following naming convention: "(County Name) 2018 JJCPA-YOBG Report." For example, Yuba County would name its file "Yuba 2018 JJCPA-YOBG Report".

Once the report is complete, attach the file to an email and send it to: JJCPA-YOBG@bscc.ca.gov. All reports will be posted to the BSCC website following a brief technical review. We encourage you to review your report for accuracy before sending it to the BSCC. Please do NOT change the report form to a PDF document.

Government Code Section 30061(b)(4)(C)(iv) &amp; WIC Section 1961(c)(3)

Provide a summary description or analysis, based on available information, of how the programs, placements, services, strategies or system enhancements funded by JJCPA-YOBG have, or may have, contributed to, or influenced, the juvenile justice data trends identified in this report.

The following analysis should be viewed with in the context of the following two limitations. A) One is that Probation cannot guarantee the accuracy of the data. These reports categorize data differently than any report Probation currently has and reconciling the data in order to assess accuracy would require the development of new reports. The Sonoma County Information Services Department does not currently have the capacity to do this work. That said, the method of sending data to JJCPDSDHDF (as it's known to us) has been consistent over the years, thus trends observed are likely measuring something real. B) The second limitation is that we cannot assign causality to any one factor for trends that appear in the data. They are, of course, the result of many factors including state and national trends. With those caveats, we present the following analysis.

Since 2007, there has been a significant decline in juvenile crime as evident in the Sonoma County data. Declines in arrests, petitions filed and youth placed on some type of court probation (informal, ward, non-ward or DEQJ) have declined by 77%, 82% and 83% respectively. In the same 10 year comparison between 2006 and 2016 the decline %s were 69%, 72%, and 72% respectively, indicating a faster rate of decline in the 10 year spread.

The rate of Subsequent Petitions remains at 6% as reported last year (2006 to 2017) comparing the 10 year spread between 2007 and 2017, though the overall Petitions decreased by 47%, dropping from 819 in 2016 to 430 in in 2017. Between 2016 and 2017 the numbers of Arrests, dropped 24% from 973 to 740, and the decline from 2014 to 2017 is a -43% down 554 arrests in 2014 to 740 total in 2017 which shows a significant decline in a short period of time.

These trends may indicate that YOBG and JJCPA funded programs are having a positive impact on Sonoma County youth. Like other Probation Departments around the state, Sonoma County Probation has tried, wherever possible to implement evidence based programs and strategies. This extends, of course to the programs funded by YOBG and JJCPA. One could conclude that these programs are one of many factors leading to a reduction in juvenile crime in the county. Further, based on the lower percentage of subsequent petitions, one might assume that these programs have had some role in reducing recidivism for youth who enter the juvenile justice system. These trends, as well as statewide trends in juvenile crime seem to point to the overall success of juvenile justice realignment.

Use the template(s) below to report the programs, placements, services, strategies, and/or system enhancements you funded in the preceding fiscal year. Use a separate template for each program, placement, service, strategy, or system enhancement that was supported with JJCPA and/or YOYG funds. If you need more templates than provided, click on the "Add'l EXPENDITURE DETAIL Forms" tab.

Start by indicating the name of the first program, placement, service, strategy, or system enhancement that was funded with JJCPA and/or YOYG funds last year. Next indicate the expenditure category using the drop down list provided in the Expenditure Category portion on each of the templates.

For each program, placement, service, strategy, or system enhancement, record actual expenditure details for the preceding fiscal year. Expenditures will be categorized as coming from one or more of three funding sources - JJCPA funds, YOYG funds, and other funding sources (local, federal, other state, private, etc.). Be sure to report all JJCPA and YOYG expenditures for the preceding fiscal year irrespective of the fiscal year during which the funds were allocated. Definitions of the budget line items are provided on the next page.

Salaries and Benefits includes all expenditures related to paying the salaries and benefits of county probation (or other county department) employees who were directly involved in grant-related activities.

Services and Supplies includes expenditures for services and supplies necessary for the operation of the project (e.g., lease payments for vehicles and/or office space, office supplies) and/or services provided to participants and/or family members as part of the project's design (e.g., basic necessities such as food, clothing, transportation, and shelter/housing: and related costs).

Professional Services includes all services provided by individuals and agencies with whom the County contracts. The county is responsible for reimbursing every contracted individual/agency.

Community-Based Organizations (CBO) includes all expenditures for services received from CBO's. NOTE: If you use JJCPA and/or YOBG funds to contract with a CBO, report that expenditure on this line item rather than on the Professional Services line item.

Fixed Assets/Equipment includes items such as vehicles and equipment needed to implement and/or operate the program, placement, service, etc. (e.g., computer and other office equipment including furniture).

Administrative Overhead includes all costs associated with administration of the program, placement, service, strategy, and/or system enhancement being supported by JJCPA and/or YOBG funds.

Use the space below the budget detail to provide a narrative description for each program, placement, service, strategy, and/or system enhancement that was funded last year. To do so, double click on the response box provided for this purpose.

Repeat this process as many times as needed to fully account for all programs, placements, services, strategies, and systems enhancements that were funded with JJCPA and/or YOBG during the last fiscal year. Keep in mind that this full report will be posted on the BSCC website in accordance with state law.

And, as previously stated, we strongly suggest you use Spell Check before returning to the BSCC.

Officers are assigned geographically to schools where they supervise youth on Probation, and assist the school by providing prevention and intervention support to youth who are having behavioral problems. Officers use cognitive behavioral journals and brief intervention techniques to work with youth under their supervision. Youth served by the program are typically low to moderate risk.

Funds were used for contracted Functional Family Therapy services to Probation families. The program involves phases and techniques designed to engage and motivate youth and families to improve their communication, interaction and problem solving skills. The Functional Family Therapy model is based on the assertion that the family or living unit of the youth is the best context within which to both understand the nature of youth's problems and to search for long-term solutions. Interventions seek to strengthen the ability of families to resolve the problems they face through reducing risk factors and increasing positive factors. The Functional Family Therapy model has been shown to reduce recidivism and risk factors for juveniles in the justice system. Locally available data have shown increases in family functioning and parental supervision of the youth.

Depending on the case, youth may participate in family group conferencing, restorative mediation, restorative dialog groups or accountability circles. While the format varies, the focus is on accepting responsibility for offending and repairing harm. These services are delivered by Restorative Resources and Recourse Mediation in the community and in Juvenile Hall.

Groups are designed to prevent violence through education and skill practice while individual counseling is intended to provide supports to youth who have a history of family violence. Youth are able to access individual counseling via two different service providers. One of the providers specializes in sexual abuse counseling and another provider offers trauma-focused cognitive behavioral therapy counseling. These services are delivered in the community, at Probation Camp and in Juvenile Hall.

Funding was used to pay salaries and benefits for two officers working with gang-involved youth. These officers partner with law enforcement and monitor moderate-high to high risk to reoffend gang members in the community. These youth are frequently referred to Aggression Replacement Training and other treatment programs that address criminogenic needs and risk factors. The goal is to educate youth about gang culture and risks, alternative choices and behaviors, resources to support healthier choices, tools to develop a positive meaningful life and an overall increased awareness of self and others in order to become positive contributing members of the community.

YOBG funds were used to pay the salary and benefits for 4 FTE Juvenile Correctional Counselors (JCC-II) who staff the maximum security unit in Juvenile Hall. The full staff compliment of the Maximum Security Unit program is 7.0 full-time equivalents. Many of these youth have ongoing behavioral and delinquency problems and, in the past, may have been sent to DJJ after failing local options. The Juvenile Correctional Counselors provide custody, programming, coordination and oversight of services to ensure the needs of participant youth are met.

The program funds paid for a contract for services with a community-based organization. The Vista Academy is Sonoma County's juvenile evening reporting center (ERC). The Center for Social and Environmental Stewardship delivers the ERC program to juveniles who are assessed to be moderate to high risk to re-offend. Clients are transported to the ERC after school hours and are provided intensive programming and activities designed to structure 40-70% of a youth's free time. The ERC is organized around a Positive Youth Justice (PYJ) Framework. In addition to behavior change programs, they received counseling, tutoring, and other structured activities. Transportation and meals are provided to program participants. Depending on the participant's progression through the case plan, the term of a successful participant is four to six months.

Program funds paid for contracts for services with three community-based organizations that provide coverage for the main population centers of Sonoma County. The Girls Circle program was delivered by Petaluma People Services Center, Child Parent Institute, and Verity. The program utilizes a female-responsive, Motivational Interviewing approach to treatment services involving relationship building, ritual, and directed techniques to elicit self-change. Girls Circles were offered to Diversion and Community Supervision youth under this program. Weekly two-hour groups were conducted in eight-week cycles.

Program funds paid for a contract for services with two community-based organizations. This program serves youth under probation supervision and their parents. Teen Triple P (Positive Parenting Program) provides parents with a broad focused parenting support intervention on a one-to-one basis for parents of teenagers. After thorough family assessment, parents set their own goals, learn ways to encourage positive behavior for teens, and teach their teens new skills such as problem solving, conflict resolution and self-regulation. Parents also learn ways to use appropriate consequences for misbehaviors (e.g. breaking family rules, taking inappropriate risks, emotional outbursts). Regular Triple P is also available to juvenile probationers with small children under these contracts.

Program funds paid for a partial contract in support of a Sonoma County Office of Education Liaison. Other support for the contract was funded by the Sonoma County Office of Education. Sonoma County's Educational Liaison Services (SCELS) works with the Juvenile Court to facilitate education services and placement of adjudicated youth into local schools, and to monitor the adjudicated youths' progress in completing educational goals and accessing appropriate support services. YOBG funds the contracted consultant to deliver SCELS services. The target population is students who have little or no support in addressing the educational and behavioral challenges that resulted in their referral into the juvenile justice system. SCELS draws from collaborative work involving the Juvenile Court, the Probation Department, the Sonoma County Office of Education, attorneys, public and private schools, community-based organizations, parents, guardians, families of students, and advocates.

These funds partially paid the cost of a contract with a sex offender treatment provider working with Probation. The contract was also partially funded from the County General Fund. Sonoma County's Juvenile Sex Offender Treatment Program utilizes the Collaborative Model for the supervision and treatment of juvenile sexual offenders. The model incorporates assessment, monitoring, supervision, intervention and treatment into a comprehensive program that is designed to reduce recidivism in the sex offender population. The Juvenile Sexual Offense Recidivism Risk Assessment Tool-II (JSORRAT-II) is utilized as the required risk assessment tool for juveniles determined appropriate for the program. Results of this assessment are used to inform a range of decisions, including placement, programming, supervision, and other resource allocation decisions. Community treatment involves group counseling, family therapy, and individual treatment.
