

Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention Act - Youthful Offender Block Grant
2017 Expenditure and Data Report
Due Date: October 1, 2017

On or before October 1, 2017, each county is required to submit to the Board of State & Community Corrections (BSCC) a report on its Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention Act (JJCPA) and Youthful Offender Block Grant (YOBG) programs during the preceding year. For JJCPA this requirement can be found at Government Code (GC) Section 30061(b)(4)(C) and for YOBG it can be found at Welfare & Institutions Code Section (WIC) 1961(c). These code sections both call for a consolidated report format that includes a description of the programs and other activities supported by JJCPA and/or YOBG funds, an accounting of all JJCPA and YOBG expenditures during the prior fiscal year, and countywide juvenile justice trend data.

Prior to submitting this report save the file using the following naming convention: "(County Name) 2017 JJCPA-YOBG Report." For example, Yuba County would name its file "Yuba 2017 JJCPA-YOBG Report".

Once the report is complete, attach the file to an email and send it to: JJCPA-YOBG@bscc.ca.gov. All reports will be posted to the BSCC website following a brief technical review.

ANALYSIS OF COUNTYWIDE TREND DATA for: Madera

Government Code Section 30061(b)(4)(C)(iv) & WIC Section 1961(c)(3)

Provide a summary description or analysis, based on available information, of how the programs, placements, services, strategies or system enhancements funded by JJCPA-YOBS have, or may have, contributed to, or influenced, the juvenile justice data trends identified in this report.

The downward trend Madera County is experiencing is partially a result of Probation Department's commitment to Evidence Based Practices (EBP). The department has been realigning caseloads through the implementation of risk based supervision since 2010. Furthermore, the funds being used for existing (EBP) programs which are all researched based have proven effective achieving desired outcomes of reducing arrest rates and number of petitions filed in juvenile court.

First, we look at how the department uses the JAIS Assessment Tool. This is a research based assessment tool that has been validated to best predict a juvenile's risk to recidivate and to identify his/her needs. As such, caseloads have become manageable as cases are divided up into three supervision caseloads, low, moderate and high. As such, probation officers are more effectively delivering services such as referrals to community based agencies, monitoring, substance abuse services, mental health, mentoring, and work readiness centers.

Our contacts in the community are increasing, thus increasing resources we offer the local youth to develop alternative solutions to the old way of locking youth up first then figuring out what to do with them. Juvenile officers and staff are better equipped now more than ever to insure quality assurance because funds pay for more training that is based on (EBP). As such, the youth and their families are the beneficiaries of our best trained efforts towards improvement of services we deliver to the community. Lastly we continue to deliver prevention/intervention programs that focus on keeping youth out of the juvenile justice system instead of keeping them in it. We continue to foster successful partnerships with local law enforcement agencies.

We continue to focus on school attendance and grade advancement through our partnerships with local school districts and we also continue to improve programs based on data analysis of funded programs. We are constantly using data from qualitative and quantitative surveys to develop best practices at our day reporting program, academy aftercare program, school restorative justice efforts, curfew operations, truancy, warrant apprehension teams, mentoring and electronic monitoring programs. Additionally, we have a continued commitment to educate officers about organizations that work with youth and parents to prevent juvenile justice involvement. Much success comes with establishing relationships with community based agencies. One of which has been Central California Youth for Christ which is a faith based community with a social or community outreach focus.

As we continue to serve the community these funded services and we focus on the youth and families, streamlining workloads and enhancing our case management, our contribution will be reflected in the downward delinquency trend.

One PTE mental health clinician was assigned to the Correctional Academy and Court Day Program. The clinician provided individual and group therapy with cadets. The clinician also provided family therapy during the offenders' placement in the programs. There were fewer offenders recommitted to the academy for remediation. We accomplished short term recidivism reduction of high risk juvenile offenders through the camp's education, physical training and counseling programs. A downfall of having a part time clinician limited the ability to provide family therapy in the evening, after 5 pm. The grant funded salaries of the mental health clinician and related supplies and equipment at that location, as well as the related curriculum i.e ART and incentives i.e. sporting events, trips and etc...

Two Deputy Probation Officers and one .25 PTE Program Specialist worked with juvenile offenders ordered into a Court Day Program and also with youth at an alternative education school site located at our Juvenile Justice Campus. The officers were a part of team that facilitated cognitive programs such as A.R.T., M.R.T., Forward Thinking and made referrals to mentoring. The officers and Program Specialist referred offenders to job readiness/training "Skills for Success" programs provided by the CBO Work Force Development and co-facilitated Battle for Change behavior modification program. The program provided positive alternatives through afterschool programming by giving juvenile offenders viable tools and skills while limiting their idle down time during after school hours which directly reduced the recidivism rate. The department purchased equipment/supplies required to run the evidenced based program materials, incentives for the minors included field trips, snacks, gift cards, sports equipment, end of program celebrations. The department also purchased supplies, bus tickets for students, and safety equipment.

All juveniles coming through the Juvenile Court System were assessed using the JAIS assessment tool which is an evidence based tool and provided services and recommendations accordingly. Ultimately the most critical offenders were identified and supervision levels are based risk/needs scores. Subsequently, within six months, all juvenile offenders had a reassessment done. Also NCCD conducted continuous JAIS assessment tool training and assistance for new staff and updates for seasoned staff. More reassessments were done this past fiscal year, which led us to identify more specific and individualized needs for the offenders. We were able to concentrate more where needed most, the moderate to high risk juvenile offenders. Funds are used annually assessment maintenance and training for the JAIS Assessment tool that works in conjunction with our system of case management.

Our department provided evidenced based training supportive of our YOBG and JJCPA programs not reimbursed by STC, for lodging, meals and curriculum for Deputy Probation Officers, Probation Technician and Juvenile Detention Officers. These officers and or technicians facilitated or assisted evidenced based programs already in place in Juvenile Hall, Court Day School and Camp programs. Professional training created more opportunities for staff to develop alternative strategies when they dealt with at risk youth thus reducing the number of youth reoffending. Funds were used for training not reimbursed by the STC, as well as curriculum or associated supplies purchased that further supported YOBG and JJCPA supported programs.

The department sponsored Big Brothers Big Sisters with over 150 Madera County youth being supported through YOBG and JJCPA funds. These youth are identified by their school as being at risk and lacking the resources at home to be successful both in school and in the community. Probation staff and friends of probation are trained volunteer "Bigs" who share time with the youth. The Bigs mentored and participated in community activities. The benefits of the probation being involved led to having more at risk youth that were matched with mentors. Funds are used to pay one FTE BBBS staff that coordinated with school sites, interview youth, teachers, officers...etc. The staff also trained volunteers and provide ongoing support to mentors and mentees. Also, BBBS hosted seasonal events for mentors and mentees.

Two Probation Technicians work with the County's school districts to identify needs of the county's truant youth with the goal of increasing school attendance throughout the county. One PT works with at risk youth population i.e. informal probation by providing supervision to low risk offenders and referring them to family maintenance. The Probation Technician conducted assessments and referred offenders and their family to an appropriate counseling program ...drug, alcohol, etc. The Technician also referred the offender and their families to Strengthening Families Services Program, a comprehensive family counseling program. Probation contracted Community Action Partnership of Madera County (CAPMC) to work with offenders in Madera County and their families through Strengthening Families Services Program. More youth were referred and more families received focused interventions this past fiscal year.
